CLOSE FRIENDS IN NEW CABINET

Premier Bonar Law Achieved Ministry With Minimum of Personal Friction, Says One of the Members

MAJORITY OF TWO FOR HOUSE OF COMMONS

Every One Has Been Member of Parliament, and Seven Have Previously Held Cabinet Rank

LONDON, Nov. 7.—The personnel of the full cabinet arouses favorable comment because it comprises only 16 members, the smallest number in recent times, and harks back to the size of the Gladstone and Salisbury Cabinets.

Carried War Cabinet
The objection commonly leveled against recent cabinets has been that the size tended to disintegrate authority. Lloyd George, it is declared, carried into peace times a system which, however necessary under the stress, was unsuited to normal conditions.

Personal Friends
Gossip goes that Premier Bonar Law achieved his ministry making with a minimum of personal friction. One member of the new cabinet today remarked:

"We are all personal friends, and the ministry is not likely to have internal jealousies."

Mr. Bonar Law has evidently weighed the criticism concerning the number of persons in the new government for the actual cabinet yields a majority of two to the House of Commons over the Lords.

All Former M.P.s.
Concerning the general complaint regarding the predominance of peers, it is pointed out that every one has been in the House of Commons, and seven already have held cabinet rank. From Scotland it is reported that moderate opinion is generally in the ascendant, the Lords of Conservatives, Unionists and National Liberals to hold together being maintained.

NATIONAL DEMOCRATS TAKE OVERWHELMING VICTORY IN POLAND

VIENNA, Nov. 7.—Polish elections Sunday resulted in an overwhelming victory for the National Democrats favoring the restoration of Marshal Pilsudski as President, doubtful, according to an Exchange Telegraph dispatch.

TWO LIBERALS MAY BE IN OPPOSITION

Conservatives Will Probably Not Enter Fight for Increased Seat in Dominion House

INVERNESS, Que., Nov. 7.—Indications are that the federal by-election in Inverness County, which has been made necessary by the appointment of L. P. Macdonald, sitting member, to the post of secretary of the Canadian High Commissioner's office in London, will not produce a contest, in Had Big Majority.

At least, it is almost certain that the Conservatives will not enter a candidate in the field, for, in the last general election, the Liberal candidate had a majority of nearly 8,000. However, it is stated that there is a possibility of two Liberals contesting the seat.

A Liberal convention is billed for tomorrow. The name of E. Roberson, a merchant of the County, is the one most prominently mentioned as the official Liberal candidate.

$150,000 MIDNIGHT BLAZE AT DAWSON

How of Buildings Destroyed by Fire—Citizens' Brigade Renders Aid to Fire Department

DAWSON, Nov. 7.—A midnight fire in the heart of town Saturday destroyed a row of buildings at Second and King Streets. Damage is about $150,000, only partially covered by insurance.

The fire apparently started in the upper stories of the Portland Block, all of which was destroyed, the lower floor only being saved. Sauler & Bend's bakery was next, followed by the Pioneer bookstore, Patterson's shoe shop and a vacant building owned by Ruston & Black. Stocks of the stores were mostly saved.

The fire department, aided by a citizens' brigade, finally brought the fire to a standstill and prevented greater damage along the main streets. The temperature at the time was 15 above, without wind.

Orchard, associate secretary of the Canadian Baptist Foreign Mission Board, Toronto, has accepted appointment as general secretary to the Baptist Union of Western Canada, in succession to Dr. A. W. Patterson, who has been elected to the position of president of Acadia University, Nova Scotia. Mr. Orchard, formerly pastor of a Brandon, Man., church, will assume his new office January 1.

Full Authority to Take Any Measures To Preserve Order

Allied Authorities Will Deal With Any Attempts at Disorder by Turkish Nationalists in Drastic Manner—United in Determination to Check Powerful Movement

CONSTANTINOPLE IN FEAR OF TURKISH ATTITUDE

CONSTANTINOPLE, Nov. 7.—The Allied commissioners in Constantinople have been given full authority to declare a state of siege or take any other measures to preserve order. This was the response of the Allied Governments to the cabled requests of the High Commissioner for permission to take complete and speedy action. It is now certain that the Allied authorities here will deal with any attempts at disturbance or infringement of the Mudania convention in a drastic manner.

WHISTLES TO USHER IN SILENCE PERIOD

IN order that the two minutes' silence may be observed on Armistice Day, next Saturday, simultaneously by every citizen of Victoria, the city authorities are arranging for whistles to be blown at the moment when the two-minute period is to officially commence.

The Council decided to make these arrangements following receipt last night of a message from the Under Secretary of State, through the Deputy Provincial Secretary, urging that the two minutes' silence at 11 o'clock on Armistice Day be observed with due solemnity and full appreciation of the important event which it commemorates.

Personal Friends
Concerning the general complaint regarding the predominance of peers, it is pointed out that every one has been in the House of Commons, and seven already have held cabinet rank. From Scotland it is reported that moderate opinion is generally in the ascendant, the Lords of Conservatives, Unionists and National Liberals to hold together being maintained.

CITY WILL VOTE ON AMUSEMENT PLAN

PRIVATE CAPITAL TO SUPPORT STADIUM PROJECT

Applicants Ask for Free Site, Tax Exemption and Free Water for Period of Ten Years

A by-law authorizing the use of the stadium property as a site for a $100,000 amusement centre, with free water supply and exemption from taxation for ten years, will probably be submitted to the property owners of Victoria at the municipal election on December 13, as a result of a conference yesterday afternoon between representatives of the City Council and the amusement centre executive of the Chamber of Commerce.

The proposal put before the Mayor and aldermen is that private interests will build and maintain the amusement centre, provided that the city gives the site together with the water and tax concessions.

The Chamber of Commerce was represented at the conference by Messrs. C. T. Cross, Alfred Carmichael, Lincoln Smith, B. C. Nicholas, Norman T. Lee, F. M. Rattenbury, Major H. Cuthbert Holmes and Assistant Secretary H. K. Eynon. The whole plan was thoroughly discussed, and plans of the proposed amusement centre were exhibited to members of the Council.

Await Formal Proposition
Although the aldermen appeared to be well satisfied with the proposition and willing to submit the matter to the ratepayers in the form of a by-law, the Council will not formally authorize the taking of a vote until the Chamber of Commerce presents the proposal in writing.

According to a proposal put before the Council by a committee of the Chamber of Commerce a week ago, a plebiscite would be held to determine whether the amusement centre should be established as a private or public enterprise. This has now been abandoned because of the feeling of several aldermen that the public would turn down a by-law involving large expenditure of private capital. It is said, is willing to go ahead with the project if the other considerations are granted.

Officials of the Chamber of Commerce stated last night that only one proposition would be put before the public, and they would be asked to approve or reject it, no alternative being offered. The decision to put the plan in the form of a by-law instead of as a plebiscite was reached on the advice of City Solicitor H. S. Pringle. This mode of procedure will also enable the project to be started with a minimum of delay, it was explained.

CAMPAIGN IS HARD

MR. AUSTIN CHAMBERLAIN UNABLE TO FINISH SPEECH

Recovering From Operation, Mr. Chamberlain Will Address Constituents From Chair at Dundee

LONDON, Nov. 7.—The election pace is beginning to tell on Mr. Austin Chamberlain, who, last night, was unable to finish his speech owing to a sore throat. Mr. Edward Wood, the new Minister of Education, has a severe chill, and the Marquis of Crewe had a bad throat.

Winston Churchill, who is just recovering from an operation, will speak from his chair to his constituents in Dundee on Saturday.

FREIGHT RULING IS HANDED DOWN

Judgment of Importance to Shippers Made by Mr. Justice Audette in Exchequer Court

DECIDES CONDITIONS OF DEMURRAGE CHARGES

Railways Not Forced to Keep Cars on Team Track and Paralyze the Business of the Company

OTTAWA, Nov. 7.—A judgment of importance to shippers of freight by rail, as well as to the Canadian railways, was handed down today by Mr. Justice Audette in the Exchequer Court in the case of the King vs. Frank A. Gillis Co., of Halifax.

Demurrage Charges
The decision, which is important as being the first judgment given in Canada determining the conditions under which a railway is entitled to charge demurrage, was made public tonight. Mr. Justice Audette, in giving judgment in favor of the plaintiff, finds that a railway is entitled to charge demurrage after a car has been available for unloading by the consignee from a proper and reasonable team track, for a period of 48 hours.

May Remove Car
It is not necessary, thereafter, for the railway company to keep the car on a team track to enable it to claim demurrage, and the consignee has no right to ask the railway company to keep his car on the team track, thus paralyzing the business of the railway company, states the judgment.

The case, which has been decided by today's judgment, grew out of a claim by the Canadian National Railway against the Frank A. Gillis Company, of Halifax, for $5,011 for demurrage charges.

Placed on Sidings
The Frank A. Gillis Company, engaged in the business of building and contractors' supplies, contended that certain cars which should have been placed on sidings were instead placed on storage sidings or on sidings other than those assigned by it, and unfit to be used in unloading. Given, on the other hand, contended that the company had no place to take the cars and gravel and store it before delivering to purchasers, it became of great disadvantage to it to keep it in the railway yard until a customer was found.

The Gillis Company, it was claimed, was negligent and dilatory in taking delivery of the contents of the cars.

GERMANY AWAITS EXPERTS' VIEWS

FOUR INVESTIGATING ECONOMIC CONDITIONS OF COUNTRY

In Meantime Reply to Reparations Commission's Note on Stabilization of Mark Delayed

BERLIN, Nov. 7.—Four of the experts who are unofficially conducting an investigation of economic conditions in Germany have been named today. They are: Dr. Johannes Popper, Dr. Robert H. Brand, Professor Gustav Cassel and Professor Johannes Jendras, have presented a report of their findings to the German Government.

The other two experts, Dr. Vissiering and Leopold Dubois, will submit a provisional report tomorrow.

Unable to Reply
In the meantime the German Government has not been able to reply to yesterday's note pending receipt of full reports from the experts.

The investigation is a necessary step toward the stabilization of the mark and collected views of the experts on the monetary situation in Germany.

FIRE IN PROVINCE CAUSE HEAVY LOSS

Mill Destroyed Near Prince George—Home at Barkerville Destroyed and Store Blown Up

VANCOUVER, Nov. 7.—Fires in scattered sections of the Province have done much damage to property within the last 24 hours. Near Prince George the Alana Lake Milling Company's mill was destroyed. There was very little insurance.

At Barkerville, the home of W. F. McCarthy was destroyed and in order to save the rest of the town the adjoining building, a combined residence and store belonging to Jim Bibby, was blown up to make a gap in which to fight the spread of the flames.

At Chilliwack the home of Mr. Tate Smith was completely destroyed but most of the furniture was saved.

WIRELESS STATIONS TO ARCTIC CIRCLE PLANNED

SWEEPING DEMOCRAT VICTORY IN UNITED STATES FORECASTED

New York Republican Loses Senatorial Contest, Offset by Gain at Nebraska—In House of Representatives Republicans Fail to Unseat Single Democrat

"WET" CANDIDATE LEADS NEW JERSEY

Twenty-five Republicans Defeated With Half House Elected—Must Gain Eighty Seats to Gain Control—Only Socialist Defeated—Speaker Gillette Re-elected

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—At 2 p.m., the trend of the returns in the elections for the United States Senate and the House of Representatives was in favor of the Democrats. With returns for more than half the House complete, the republicans had not unseated a Democratic representative, and Democratic candidates had defeated more than twenty-five Republicans. To gain control of the House, however, the Democrats must gain nearly eighty seats. The Senate returns at that hour showed definitely one Democratic gain by the defeat of Senator Calder in New York. That, however, was offset by a Republican gain of one, Nebraska, where R. B. Howell had defeated Senator Hitchcock.

SUFFRAGE FIGHT ON IN FRANCE

WOMEN CROWD GALLERIES DURING DEBATE IN SENATE

Discussion Indicates Some Measure of Franchise for Women Is Favored by Government

PARIS, Nov. 7.—Women had their innings in the Senate today, when the first two speakers in the suffrage debate urged the granting of the vote to women, which the Chamber approved three years ago, but the Conservative Senate opposed.

Women Crowd Galleries
The women crowded the galleries applauded boisterously. Senator Gourju said that 138,000 women had been given the right to vote, but France was backward. He cited the case of a juvenile court as one of the results of the voting power of women. The debate was adjourned temporarily.

Look for Victory
The women are hopeful of victory because M. Viviani, always their friend, is now in the Senate, and the cabinet discussion this morning indicated that the Government favors some form of suffrage.

NOT PROPER TIME TO REFUSE TO CO-OPERATE

LONDON, Nov. 7.—Sir John Gillender, acting Unionist whip in Scotland, in an election address, says he feels the present is not the proper time to refuse co-operation with the moderate parties and that while he will support the Government and acknowledge leadership of Premier Bonar Law, he will hold himself free to resume co-operation with those who have as their aim the policy of maintenance of constitutional government.

CITE REDUCTION OF WAGE TOTAL

WEEKLY BILL IN ENGLAND REDUCED $12,000,000 SINCE 1918

In Attack on Coalition Government, Trade Unions Deplore Curtailment of Agriculture

LONDON, Nov. 7.—The fact that in spite of the Coalition Government's promises in regard to agricultural reforms, the area of land under wheat in the United Kingdom has declined 813,000 acres since 1918, and land under oats has declined 867,000 acres, is a point featured in the election manifesto of the Trades Union General Council, which adds:

Thousands Idle
"Land has gone out of cultivation and thousands of workers capable of producing food urgently needed by millions of underfed men, women and children are unemployed."

The manifesto further declares that the Government permitted without protest attacks on labor conditions resulting in a reduction of the weekly wage bill since 1918 of approximately 12,000,000.

Improve Social Conditions
This appeal on behalf of Labor candidates concludes:

"The political power you possess should be utilized for the purpose of associating your aim to improve social conditions, security against unemployment, and better prospects for your children."

FUNDAMENTAL CHANGES NOT PREMIER'S PLAN

No Immediate Upheaval of English Fiscal System or Changes in House of Lords is Contemplated

LONDON, Nov. 7.—The new Government will make no fundamental changes in the fiscal system, according to Premier Bonar Law, speaking in London tonight. Neither does it intend any fundamental changes in the constitution, in the House of Lords for the first three or four sessions of Parliament.

IS FOR UNITY OF ALL MODERATE FORCES

Mr. Lloyd George Implores Workingmen Not to Go Down Wrong Avenue Seeking a Paradise

LONDON, Nov. 7.—In his address at Newcastle today, Mr. Lloyd George said he wanted to see as many National Liberals returned as possible, not to embarrass the government, but to save them from some of their worst enemies.

Stand on Reparations
Continuing, the ex-Premier said: "I stand on the reparations issue where I stood in the last election. What I said then was that Germany should pay to the limit of her capacity. In these things you must avoid extremes. Find out what Germany can pay. If there is to be a reduction of the amount, let there be a fair distribution to all creditor nations. Do not let it be at the expense of the British taxpayer who lost just as heavily and sustained damage just as great as the taxpayers of other countries. There should be fair and equal treatment for all the Allies."

Continuing Mr. Lloyd George said he had fought all his life for Labor, "I am not against the workingman," he said, "but I do implore him not to go down the wrong avenue seeking a paradise that is not there. Therefore, I am for the unity of all moderate forces of any and every party that has a progressive outlook."

ITALY DESIRES NEW TREATY WITH CANADA

After Completing Negotiations With French Government, Canadian Minister May Go to Rome

OTTAWA, Nov. 7.—When negotiations now under way between Hon. W. S. Fielding, Minister of Finance, and the French Government for a new trade treaty between Canada and France are concluded, it is expected that Mr. Fielding will take up revision of Canada's present trade arrangements with Italy. According to dispatches from Rome, Premier Mussolini of Italy has already given some consideration to the question, and from time to time in the past few months there have been indications that Italy desired a revision of the present arrangement.

On Familiar Ground

In negotiating with Italy, as was the case with France, Mr. Fielding will be on familiar ground. It was Mr. Fielding who, as Minister of Finance in the Laurier Government, negotiated in 1919 a trade agreement with Italy which, although intended to be only temporary, is the basis of Canada's trade relations with Italy. At the time Italian goods coming into Canada enjoyed no special privilege, nor had Canadian goods going to Italy any advantage. Both had to meet the maximum tariff. Under the 1919 agreement, however, Canada gave to Italy her intermediate tariff on a certain list of articles. At the same time Italy gave to Canada her lower tariff on specified articles.

Intermediate Tariff
Other products on which Canada granted intermediate rates included macaroni and vermicelli, tomatoes, lime juice, wine, champagne, cattle soap, pomades, essential oils, lace, women's and children's dress goods, church vestments, manufactures of silk, musical instruments, head ornaments and fine kid gloves.

FEAR ANTI-CHRISTIAN UPRISING IS BREWING

Following Arrest and Reported Lynching of Anti-Nationalist Editor Hundreds of Panic-Stricken Turks Appeal to British for Safe Conduct—Anxious to Leave Constantinople

Constantinople Governor Has Received Warnings

CONSTANTINOPLE, Nov. 7.—Ali Kemal Bey, editor of the Constantinople anti-Nationalist newspaper Sabah, has been arrested and condemned to death by the Turkish authorities here, the Allies have been informed. Late last night the Allied representatives gave Rafet Pasha, the new civil governor of the city, forty-eight hours in which to release the editor.

Is Reported Hanged
Rafet replied he was unaware of the arrest but would investigate. It was reported here today that the editor had been hanged at Jamid after a crowd had half lynched him, but this was not confirmed officially. The Allied high commissioners feel that if the arrest is allowed to stand it would be likely leading to the imprisonment of hundreds of other residents of the city, Turks, Greeks and Armenians, who enjoy the confidence and respect of the Allies.

Ask Safe Conduct
The Allied action with regard to Ali Kemal Bey had been preceded by appeals from hundreds of Turks to the British authorities here to accord them safe conduct, so that they might join in the great exodus of Greeks and Armenians which has been in progress recently. Panic has set in over the possibility that the Nationalists are about to take control in Constantinople, and send in their troops. The arrest and condemnation of the editor gave the signal for all the remaining prominent Turks to begin to seek cover.

Menace of Uprising
All day yesterday the Allied high commissioners held frequent conferences over the threatened wholesale invasion of the Kemalists and the menace of an anti-Christian uprising. The British armed patrols about the city meanwhile exercised the greatest vigilance in protecting life and property.

Hoarding Food
The Allied food control commission has arranged to meet the food famine which seems imminent, the shortage being brought about by the exorbitant customs duties, the hoarding of foodstuffs and the closing of the shops.

Some of the city grocers have hidden away commodities which have risen 100 per cent in twenty-four hours. The existing misery and unemployment, the wholesale dismissal of government workers and the fall of the Turkish pound to forty cents have aggravated the situation.

Allies Firm
The Allied generals informed Rafet Pasha in clear terms that they intended to retain military authority in Constantinople until it is decided to formally turn over the area to the Turks. Rafet then said he was anxious to agree with the Allies and join in union with them, but that he could not accept outside control in any form. He added that he would have to refer the matter to the Ankara government for further instructions and would again consult with the Allied representatives today.

EX-PREMIER ADVISES FIRMNESS WITH TURK

Will Be Wholeheartedly Behind Government if it Stands Behind Flag, Says Mr. Lloyd George

NEWCASTLE, Eng., Nov. 7.—Lloyd George made some sharp references to the crisis which has arisen in the Near East since his fall from the premiership, in the political address which he delivered before a large assembly here today.

"The Near East is beginning to show symptoms of inflammation," he said. "Whatever happens our flag must not be let down."

The New List
Later in his speech the "Little Welshman" said: "We had got rid of the Turk, but he has looked at the new list of new ministers and has come to the conclusion that this is the time for another try."

"If the government stands by the flag, my friends, I will be wholeheartedly behind them," Mr. Lloyd George said, "entreat the government to show the Turks that we will not be trifled with and that the Turk must stand by the document signed a few weeks ago at Mudania."

WARS WITH FRIENDS

LORD DERBY LATEST OPPONENT OF VISCOUNT BIRKENHEAD

Lloyd George, Lieutenant Should Apologize or Withdraw Misstatement, Says War Minister

LONDON, Nov. 7.—Viscount Birkenhead, who remains as one of Lloyd George's lieutenants, continues his series of little wars with his former friends. Yesterday it was with Lord Derby, who, on Saturday, replied to Lord Birkenhead's assertion that he (Derby) had in the Lloyd George Liberals in Lancashire to "keep me in and your leader out."

The statement was particularly damaging to Lord Derby, whose influence in Lancashire is great. "Lord Birkenhead knows it is not true," said Lord Derby on Saturday in reply. "When a gentleman makes a statement unintentionally, he withdraws it and apologizes. Lord Birkenhead has done neither."

Questions to Lord Derby
Lord Birkenhead yesterday wanted to know if Lord Derby pretended that, assuming the Government had immediately begun opposing the Conservatives he would still have advised the Conservatives to keep with them. Obviously not, but Lord Derby is to have a place in the Government, continues Birkenhead, so his invitation to the National Liberals to put him in and keep Lloyd George out must remain. Lord Birkenhead finally declares that Lord Derby always preferred the incense of the platform to the atmosphere of parliamentary debate, but "if he likes to rest his observations in the House of Lords," Birkenhead will handle them again.

Advices Women
Lord Birkenhead also advised women Unionists to vote only for those Unionists who are willing to continue co-operation with Mr. Lloyd George. Lord Birkenhead's authority for dispensing advice to the Liverpool ladies rests on the fact that he was the scene of his earliest triumphs, both politically and legally.

INTEREST ON DEBT

BRITISH PAYMENT OF FIFTY MILLIONS TO AMERICA

Measure Made Necessary Pending Agreement Between Two Governments on Funding of Debt

LONDON, Nov. 7.—The British Government has directed the further payment of $50,000,000 to the United States on November 15 to apply to the interest due on the war debt, pending an agreement between the two Governments for the funding of the debt. This measure was made necessary by the unavoidable delay in sending a British debt mission to the United States, caused by the resignation of the Lloyd George ministry.

CANADA SENDING MORE TO STATES

FIGURES FOR SEPTEMBER COMPILED UNDER OLD TARIFF

Exports to Canada From United States Decrease—U.S. Exports to Europe Drop

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—Imports from Canada to the United States increased in value four million dollars, and exports to Canada decreased one million in September this year, as compared with September, 1921, according to foreign trade reports issued by the United States Commerce Department.

Imports from Canada during September this year were valued at $28,000,000 against $24,000,000 in September last year.

Exports were $55,000,000, as against $56,000,000.

The import figures for September were compiled under the old tariff law and were for the first 21 days only, although they were compared with the full month of September, 1921.

Exports to Europe during September were $135,000,000, against $177,000,000 in September a year ago. Imports from Europe for the month were $12,800,000, as against $13,000,000 a year ago.

WOMEN ASK CHANGES IN MARRIAGE LAWS

General Convention of Clubs in Washington Also Outlines Grounds on Which to Grant Divorce

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—Preparation of a bill establishing national marriage and divorce regulations for introduction in the next Congress was announced today by the general federation of Women's Clubs.

Provisions of the bill would make marriage more difficult and would allow divorce on one of five grounds, as follows: Inability, incurable insanity, abandonment for one year, cruel and inhuman treatment, or conviction of an infamous crime.

Valid in Every State
Once granted, such a divorce would be valid in every state, but neither party to a divorce would be permitted to remarry until one year after the divorce was granted.

This bill would provide also that applications for marriage licenses be posted two weeks prior to the ceremony.

Had Constipation for Six Months Was Relieved by Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills

A free motion of the bowels daily should be the rule of everyone, then there will be no constipation, sick or bilious spells, heartburn, foul breath, sour stomach, etc.

Mrs. R. C. Hunt, Port George, N.S., writes: "I have been troubled by being constipated for the last six months. My tongue has been terribly coated, so much so that it made my breath bad. I was talking to a friend about it, and she advised me to use Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills which I did, and now I am perfectly well. My tongue is as smooth as it was before I got that way, and I owe it all to your Pills, of which I only used two vials."

Moulding Says It Is His Family Medicine

"Tanlac has done my wife and myself so much good that we have made it our family medicine," says Frederick Moulding, 2513 17th Street, South-west, Calgary, Alberta.

"As for myself, I had been feeling just about halfback for some time. My appetite was poor, nothing tasted right, and what I did eat seemed to do me little good. Although I was working every day I never felt hungry, and my energy and strength was slipping right away from me.

"Two or three years ago my wife was troubled somewhat the same way. I had no appetite, was all run down, and very nervous. After taking a few bottles of Tanlac she was so improved that all the neighbors spoke about it.

"Knowing what Tanlac did for my wife, I, of course, took it myself, and it has helped me just like it did her. I now eat three rousing meals a day and relish every bite, and have an appetite that never fails me. That tired feeling is gone, and my old time strength and energy have come back to me. My wife and myself both think Tanlac is great."

Tanlac is sold by all good druggists. (Adv.)

CITY POLICE COURT

WONG PAYS $50 FOR HAVING WHISKY IN TEAPOT

Several Cases Remanded in Absence of Magistrate Jay, Who Is Again on Sick List

Remands were the order of the day in the police court yesterday, when Mr. W. W. Northcott, J.P., occupied the bench in the absence of Magistrate George Jay, who is again confined to his home by an attack of bronchitis.

Preliminary to the adjournment ordered in several cases, Wong Gee Si pleaded guilty to the charge of having liquor in a place where non-alcoholic drinks were sold, the said place being a Chinatown candy store, while the said liquor was whisky in a teapot, both container and contents being made an interesting exhibit of the court. A fine of $50 was imposed.

B. Lay, who had attracted the notice of the police in connection with two separate infractions of the traffic by-law, and who admitted both charges, was fined $10 for speeding on Government Street, and $5 for not having a rear light on his motor car.

Ah Lee, charged with drinking liquor in a public place, was represented by Mr. J. A. Alkman, who obtained a remand until next Friday. A second Ah Lee, this one with the alias of Lee Fong, was remanded until tomorrow on a charge of vagrancy. The police allegation against him is that he is a "Peeping Tom." He will be defended by Mr. C. J. Prior.

A third Ah Lee headed the list of four Chinamen charged with frequenting an opium den at 514 Commercial Street, the other three being Hing Lum and Tong Sing. The accused pleaded not guilty, and were remanded in cash bail of $50 each to appear for trial next Saturday.

The last charge on the calendar was that against Men, charged with having unlawful possession of opium. Men pleaded not guilty and will come up for trial tomorrow.

APPELLANT WINS IN COUNTY COURT

JUDGE REVERSES DECISION AGAINST CHIROPRACTOR

Mr. Thomas Mercer Gets Judgment in First of Several Appeals From Police Court Convictions

A legal victory for local chiropractors was contained in a decision handed down in the County Court yesterday by His Honor Judge Lampman, who allowed the appeal of Mr. Thomas Mercer from the fine of $50 imposed by Magistrate Jay in the police court, on a conviction of practicing medicine in contravention of the Medical Act.

The appeal was the first to be heard of a series which the chiropractors of Victoria and Vancouver intend to make from recent police court convictions in the two cities. In the present case, however, the decision does not discuss the question of the legal status of the chiropractor in British Columbia, the issue being tried solely on the specific facts as presented in evidence. On that point of fact, Judge Lampman has found that no offence as charged has been proved.

On the hearing of the appeal before the learned judge, two weeks ago, Mr. H. B. Robertson, K.C., appeared for the Crown; and Ian MacKenzie, M.P., for the appellant. The full text of Judge Lampman's decision follows:

Text of Judgment

"This is an appeal by Thomas Mercer from his conviction by the Police Magistrate on a charge of unlawfully practicing medicine for hire, gain or hope of reward by treating one Charles Hine for an ailment. The appellant is a chiropractor, and is not registered under the Medical Act.

"Hine was a doctor, and just went to appellant's office and feigned an ailment and appellant examined his spine. What, if anything, he discovered was not stated. However, it was arranged that the patient should come back next day for a treatment or 'adjustment' as it is termed. Hine came subsequently on at least two occasions and had adjustments. He offered appellant money, but appellant was suspicious and refused on each occasion to take any money.

Hine's evidence was that a fee of $10 was bargained for on the first occasion, but appellant denies this. Hine's statement as to this bargain is not given (even when looked at in print) in a convincing manner. The prosecution had to use the evidence given before the magistrate by Hine, as he was out of the Province at the time of the hearing before me. Just who and what Hine was did not appear—he had been acting for a detective agency two weeks—but he was, beyond that, nothing appears. If his statement had been made in a direct manner, I might have accepted it against the appellant's denial, but as it is I do not. I have not overlooked the fact that on his cross-examination he was definite enough about the bargain.

Benefit of Doubt

"It should be stated that Hine, so far as appeared, had been guilty of no crime, and I judged that he could not be believed.

"In the absence of this bargain, can the appellant in the circumstances be said to have manipulated Hine's spine for gain? The transaction was lawful, Hine could have been made to pay, and probably Mercer could have changed his mind and refused to take any money. He was, as his intention to make a charge was not communicated to Hine, but his statement that he did not act for pay is corroborated by his refusal to take any money.

"By appellant's own evidence it appeared that he is practicing for gain, but I can only deal with the offence charged, and in view of the conflicting evidence I think he is entitled to the benefit of the doubt, and the appeal must be allowed with costs fixed at $25 and disbursements."

HE EXPRESSED VIEWS ON WOMEN AS VOTERS

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—"Women in politics make me sick," ruminated Eugene Komansk, dry goods merchant, as he surveyed the line of feminine voters in front of a polling booth on Upper Broadway.

The next thing Komansk knew he was in a West side court, his face bruised and scratched, his clothes torn and collar missing, answering a charge of disorderly conduct, preferred by one of his thrones. The magistrate said Komansk had been sufficiently punished already, and dismissed the charge.

KIWANIANS HEAR VICTORIA LIBRARIAN

Miss Helen Stewart Urges Canadians to Master One Work of Literature During Authors' Week

In place of buying books written by Canadian authors, quite apart from their values, every Canadian man, woman and child should find out some work of real literature, whether it be a novel or other form of reading matter, that gives spiritual setting, moral issues and the right perspective, and get a hold of the art and master it, was the suggestion advanced yesterday at the weekly luncheon of the Victoria Kiwanis Club by Miss Helen Stewart, city librarian, who addressed the members of the organization in the Dominion Hotel dining-room on "Canadian Authors and Their Works."

Miss Stewart appealed for the co-operation of the Kiwanians in encouraging an appreciative audience for Canadian literature and authors.

The speaker mentioned last year's campaign towards stimulating greater interest in Canadian authors and their works. She said that the campaign appealed to the citizens for two reasons, namely, that Canadians liked to patronize home industry, and, secondly, that in this era of business everyone was more or less tied up with one particular line, and, although realizing that literature was not so important as such things as real estate, gasoline, etc., yet Canadians liked to patronize literature and art once in a while for a little variety.

The results of the campaign, while drawing more attention to Canadian literature, enabled merchants to sell a good many books, and a large number of Canadian shrews went into the pockets of Canadian writers and publishers.

Several Mistakes

Miss Stewart dwelt on two reasons which she advanced as mistakes in last year's Canadian Authors' Week. The first mistake, she said, was that the campaign was too general, and that it was not directed to the right kind of literature at all without brains. Whatever may be the merits of free trade in connection with the commercial and business realm, the principle of free trade is the only policy in the trade of ideas," Miss Stewart contended.

The second fundamental error, Miss Stewart stated, was even worse than the first. Literature did not consist in having on the market a certain number of books. The method adopted was to boost, boost, boost, regardless of quality, instead of encouraging young authors.

"Canadians even encouraged unprepared people to speak up poor workmanship and low standards. The only way to get the right kind of mental muscle is to secure that variety of literature which is worth reading."

Miss Stewart declared that some persons try to get life through attending conventions, get-together meetings and participating in literary enterprises. "Literature lifts people up from the spiritual lethargy into which they have fallen. The trouble is that we haven't got the values in our minds at all," she concluded, stating that there was a vast difference between literature and journalism, the former giving vital personal experiences of life, their significance and values, while the latter, she claimed, only circulated information and facts.

Standards of Literature

"There is no doubt that we must have standards in our literature, and we certainly cannot have them unless we know them. We may talk of our Canadian Literature and Book Week, and while it is a thing of vast promise, so far, there has been almost no achievement. It is in the line of education, passing through the pioneer period."

"Literature is the backbone and the vital essence of the nation, and it is fitting that everyone should assist in creating Canadian Authors' Week by encouraging, to the best of their ability, the appreciative audience, rather than purchasing unlimited quantities of books," Miss Stewart concluded.

ETHICAL SCRUPLE PREVENTS TRIAL

CASE AGAINST CIVIC CHIEFS IS AGAIN DELAYED

Mayor and Aldermen Have Hopes That Proceedings May Get Under Way Tomorrow

Mayor Merchant and Aldermen Woodward, Leeming and Parry, awaiting speedy trial before Judge Lampman on a charge of wrongfully paying $100 to Police Commissioner Stensland, found themselves in cordial agreement with Shakespeare's immortal animadversion on the law's delays, when Crown officers came into the County Court yesterday and confessed that they were unable to proceed with the trial as arranged. Considerable discussion ensued before it was possible to fix tomorrow as a peremptory date of trial.

The first intimation that Victoria's latest cause celebre was to illustrate the justice of the Shakespearean characterization came in Chambers yesterday. Mr. J. S. Brandon said that he had been requested last Monday to appear as Crown prosecutor. It was not until he had examined the depositions, he said, that he had discovered that his law partner, Mr. J. W. Davy, had already appeared. In the case as counsel for one of the defendants, Alderman Eugene S. Woodward.

Mr. Brandon said that the court would, of course, understand that that posture of affairs would prevent his participation in the prosecution. He had so informed the Attorney-General's department, and he would ask for an adjournment until the Crown could instruct some other lawyer to act.

Judge Lampman: "What is the matter? It was the Crown itself which set down the trial for this date, and time was allowed for this very matter of instructing counsel to act for the prosecution."

Defence Objects Strongly

Mr. Percy Marchant, of Messrs. Tait & Marchant, solicitors for the defence, said that he was not instructed in the matter, but he felt sure that Mr. D. S. Tait, who was conducting the defence, would strongly oppose further delay. The learned judge decided that the question could not be settled until all parties were present in court.

When the judge had assumed his robes, and the case had been formally called for trial, Mr. J. W. Dixie, departmental solicitor in the office of the Attorney-General, repeated in substance the statement previously made by Mr. Brandon. Mr. Dixie said that Mr. Brandon had been instructed to act in ignorance of the fact that Mr. Davy was appearing for the defence. It would be necessary to ask for further adjournment.

Mr. Tait strongly opposed any talk of further delay in bringing the case to trial.

"The department knew perfectly well of these circumstances," asserted counsel, "I told them of it by telephone. These defendants are anxious to go to trial. They are now ready to go to trial. The Crown has no more right to deny than it would have if it were proceeding before the Assize Court."

"But it is not as if these defendants were in prison," Mr. Dixie pointed out.

Judge Lampman: "No; but it may be that they want to know if they have got to go to jail."

Mr. Dixie: "Well, the adjournment would only be for two or three days."

Many Come to See

Judge Lampman: "They might only be in jail two or three days if they were convicted. I suppose there will have to be another adjournment, but it is very unnecessary."

Mr. Tait then threw a legal bomb into the enemy camp by moving for dismissal, on the ground that no offence was shown on the face of the indictment against his clients.

Mr. Dixie protested that he was no more prepared to discuss the issues involved in that point than he was to go on with the trial. In this case he was supported by the learned judge, who ruled that the motion could be renewed tomorrow, which was the peremptory date finally assigned to the trial.

The little court room was crowded yesterday when the four accused municipal representatives took their seats in the witness box. They were again accompanied, as on every previous occasion of their appearance in these proceedings, by Alderman J. Hebdon Gillespie, who lost no opportunity in this quiet fashion, of evidencing his support of his accused colleagues of the aldermanic finance committee. Police Commissioner Walter E. Stensland, the payee of the $100, which occasionally emerges like a derelict from the raging seas of all this controversy, was also observed to be present in court.

Neither Mr. George Morphy, secretary of the Ratepayers' Protective Association, and informant against the accused, nor Mr. Frank Higgins, K.C., counsel for the association as informant, were present.

HOME PRODUCTS

The B. C. Products Bureau has issued figures to show that during the past ten years 193,347 persons have emigrated from British Columbia. If these figures are correct they illustrate the necessity of a strong, co-operative campaign to provide new industries and to support the existing ones in this Province so as to prevent so many people leaving British Columbia to seek work elsewhere. The exodus is undoubtedly due to lack of work. One of the objects of the B. C. Products Bureau is to point the way to prevent a continuance of this exodus. That organization is encouraging, in every way in its power, the support of home industries which means the creation of more employment. It is assembling data dealing with the resources of the Province and urging that these resources be developed. We do not know how much attention it gives to Vancouver Island, but it is chiefly a Mainland organization and its example should be emulated in this section of the Province by the creation here of a similar body with similar purposes and intent.

Local industries, especially those in a small way, depend for the basis of their property on the home market. Unless our own people buy home products the industries concerned will go out of business. Unless they buy in preference to outside products there will be a slump in the employment market. On Vancouver Island this question of sustaining the home market does not seem to have been understood as it should be. It has been very difficult to arouse interest in the formulation of organized effort to promote Vancouver Island industries. There has not been a proper realization of how, from small beginnings, with steady and progressive application, Island resources, now lying dormant, can be developed. It has been brought to our notice on scores of occasions that there are hundreds of men in our midst who are skilled workmen in particular trades in which they can find no openings here, chiefly because those trades do not exist. We have the raw materials for a variety of industries, but there is no organized effort to promote industrial development.

So long as there is lack of initiative and enterprise, and particularly a lack of co-operative effort to insure development, we must expect that a lack of employment will act as a deterrent on the growth of population. Our patriotic bodies, who concentrate their attention on civic progress, should be one and all engaged at this time on formulating plans designed to encourage the investment of capital in industry, to emphasize the advantage of buying home products, and to canvass our resources so as to put forward policies respecting how these may be developed. We believe that is the greatest task that confronts civic patriotism. It should be undertaken in a spirit that is not parochial but designed to benefit Vancouver Island as a whole. The B. C. Products Bureau is doing a good work on the Mainland. There should be a similar organization here. The best investment that Victoria and Vancouver Island can have is the dissemination of the knowledge that our own people are investing in their own resources and making them pay. That will be the strongest inducement to outside capital to come here. It will solve any unemployment problem we may have and it will build up a happy, prosperous and optimistic community.

IMPRISONMENT FOR DEBT

The principle involved in the measure now before the Legislature which seeks to reintroduce an old-time practice of imprisonment for debt appears to have been overlooked by the sponsors of that bill which is an amendment to the Supreme Court Act. It is over 60 years since, by the introduction of a new Bankruptcy Act, imprisonment for debt, except when fraudulently contracted, was abolished in the United Kingdom. Debtors have been subjected to imprisonment in almost all countries and at all times. It is an archaic practice which led to wrongs and sufferings constituting punishment in the great majority of cases beyond the deserts of the persons involved. Prisons used to be crowded with debtors to an extent that is now scarcely credible. This practice, as it obtained in England, was pilloried by Dickens and other writers, and the Marshalsea and the Fleet Prison obtained a most unenviable notoriety.

We do not know what set of circumstances has led up to the Government's decision to institute imprisonment as a punishment for judgment debtors who do not obey the order of the courts. It is an extension to a higher court of a power that exists in the County Court, but in the latter court it is a power rarely, if ever, exercised. Even the fact of limiting the extent of such imprisonment does not effect in any way the principle involved. The law has its remedy against a debtor. If he has any visible assets they can be attached, but under such attachment we believe the spirit of the law is to insure he is left enough to live upon. The law might be made more specific in the way for the protection of creditors, but nothing but odium on those responsible will accrue by a policy of imprisonment for debt. The mere fact of personally contracting obligations without fraudulent intent and then being unable to meet them should not carry with it the punishment of imprisonment. It is true that the proposed law gives a loophole for escape from imprisonment, in the showing of "good cause" for the failure to pay constituting absolute. The Government ought to consider this matter before attempting to push such a measure through the Legislature.

CONDITIONS AT MERVILLE

Following his visit to Merville Mr. W. J. Bowser will be able to tell the Legislature of conditions being faced by the settlers in that locality. The Government has yet to enunciate a policy of what it intends as a result of the sufferings and losses sustained by the returned men who have located in that district. It is obvious to anyone who has taken even a cursory interest in the subject that the settlers are faced with greater handicaps than any to which they have been subjected in the past. The recent report submitted to the Government on conditions there was not very illuminating. It gave expression to pious hopes, but failed to deal in anything like a satisfactory way with tangible realities. We do not believe that Mr. E. D. Barrow, the Minister of Agriculture, is wholly satisfied with the situation. He could not be, as an agriculturist, for the conditions now prevailing are such as to constitute too heavy a handicap on the settlers.

Mr. Bowser, with first hand information, has an opportunity to cause the Legislature to action. The settlers want to know how they are to get through the coming winter. They do not want doles or charity, but productive work, which will tend to increase the productive value of their holdings. It should be established, too, once for all, how much of the land settled at Merville is capable of producing a decent living for its occupants. That is the crux of the situation. The land, as is generally known, is very unequal in its opportunities. Some settlers, therefore, are very much handicapped as compared with others. The Government, through its Land Settlement Board, must share some of the blame for these conditions. Taken as a whole the question of Merville raises the problem of the efficacy of the Land Settlement Board. This is one that ought to be taken cognizance of by the Legislature. In the interim some definite plan of action to relieve the plight of the Merville settlers should be decided upon without any more loss of time.

A considerable number of poems, or perhaps we should say verses, have been written in reply to, or in imitation of, the soul-stirring words of the late Colonel McCrea's "In Flanders Fields." None of the verses so far as we know, have served any particular or useful purpose. There is being circulated in Victoria at the present time, however, a poem with a purpose which is commendable in the highest degree. Mr. W. G. Foss is the author, and his work has been mounted in an artistic manner and will be sold for the benefit of local institutions in which returned soldiers are interested. "We Are the Living," is the title of the poem and the concluding verse is as follows:

"Forget us not as years go by;
On your remembrance we rely;
For love that sees our hearts below
Our broken bodies, else we grow
To crave the peace with those who lie
In Flanders' Fields."

Even in the days when Victoria was in its infancy and The Colonist had only discarded swaddling clothes, this paper took a deep interest in the public affairs of the city. Some of our readers may have noticed that "Fifty Years Ago" the total revenue of the city was but twelve thousand dollars and that ratepayers were urged by the editor of that day to get on the voters' list and exercise all their influence in favor of efficient civic government. Municipal revenue has grown since those "ancient days," and the necessity for efficiency in administration has increased in a corresponding degree.

Rev. Wm. Briggs, D.D., whose death in Toronto is announced, was well known in most parts of Canada, and was especially well known to "the people called Methodists." The Doctor was from the north of Ireland, and his rich brogue, embellished by the wit for which his countrymen are celebrated, was heard in many a pulpit outside of the Methodist denomination. He was a great many years the executive head of the Methodist publishing house in Toronto, and a business man of great capacity. His death will prove a heavy loss to the Methodist Church.

Tourists or Industries

Sir,—The steady migration from Victoria to California which has been in progress for some months should convince property owners and business men that it is time to review the policy of the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau. Fear of the epithet "knocker" should not deter anyone from expressing an opinion on the results of the long campaign to induce tourists to pass this way. Probably that campaign has been skillfully conducted. The fact that the best Canadian and American magazines publicly the publicity writer's descriptions of the scenery and other attractions of Vancouver Island is a proof of the high quality of the work in one department. But it is probable that unprejudiced criticism will be of educational value to those people who have been persuaded to believe that tourists founded and built the cities of the Pacific Coast of North America.

The popular fairy tale that the population of Los Angeles is composed of tourists and immigrants is of peculiar interest to the people of Victoria. This city is at present contributing families to that population; and those families are not going there as tourists. They have not been lured south by the promise of a delightful climate. The advertising literature of the tourist association has not been of interest to them. We know that they have gone in search of opportunities to work. Idle men went because they were determined to find jobs. Fathers of families went because of the pressing necessity for food and clothing even in our perfect climate, and because in Victoria the future held no prospect for their boys and girls. Yet the Publicity Bureau—which properly discarded the name Development Association—clings to the belief that tourists, and not industries, are required for the prosperity of this community.

Does anyone imagine that those families of Canadians who are about to become American citizens, will again become residents of Victoria because of the persuasive eloquence of the Tourist Association? What would induce them to return? It is certain that they would immediately prepare to come home if Victoria became a centre of industrial activity, if jobs were plentiful, and if the future promised a variety of opportunities to your men and women. The people of this Island are loyal people. The Overseas proved that. And the thought that their children are to learn devotion to a foreign flag is a sad thought to many of those whose necessities have driven them into exile. The Publicity Bureau may regard such patriotism as a foolish sentiment; and it may seem that those parties of prosperous travelers which visit us by the Sydney-Anacortes ferry route offer ample compensation for the loss of many of our workers of British birth. So, in order that sentiment and patriotism may be banished from this criticism, and that the controversy may be concerned solely with dollars and cents, we may agree to disregard quality and deal solely with figures. But, as we consider the problem from a mercenary point of view, we may still wonder whether it is reasonable to expect tourists to become residents of Victoria when our own people who long to return to their homes are unable to find opportunities to do so.

There is no evidence to support the statement so frequently made that the large population must first be secured and that industries will follow. The flight to the United States in search of work is a proof that industries are necessary. And if it were true that tourists build cities and bring industries, the Yellowstone Park metropolis of the Yellowstone National Canyon an industrial centre offering cheap power. If tourists contributed largely to population the Swiss Alps should not be so thickly populated as they are in Europe.

The theory is ridiculous. It is important solely because of its tragic consequences. Industries are necessary in order that the men and women may find work. Great centres of industry exist only when it is possible to draw holiday crowds from the great industrial areas. The policy of the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau will not help to build a great city. It will not even make a great city. And few boys and girls are blood will be satisfied with the prospect of excelling as servants of tourists or in the homes of those who are expected to come to Victoria in idleness. Industrial development is necessary; and in order to attract industries, it will be necessary to collect accurate information in regard to the resources of Vancouver Island, and to tell the story of opportunities to business men when they are at work after their return to their homes.

Causes of Disease

Sir,—The Island Council for Social Hygiene, in its article of Sunday, November 5, makes the suggestion that we should consider some of the causes and outside influences which bring about disease. "and then goes on to say, 'Perhaps the most universal cause of illness in human beings is the invasion of the body by one or other of the numerous germs or organisms which cause disease.'"

Can we prevent the organisms from entering the body or prevent them from producing their injurious effects? This would imply that the Social Council has sponsored the "germ theory" of disease (i.e., the theory that germs cause disease). Among laymen there may be some excuse for the lack of knowledge in this matter, but in these days, no well-read medical man can fail to know that the "germ theory" of disease has never been substantiated and that it has been a matter of controversy amongst prominent scientists and medical men since the day that Pasteur first propounded it. Moreover, it is a theory which is being more and more vigorously attacked by the scientific world without the magic circle of science.

Balance—or pseudo-science—is responsible for perpetuating many errors, and the "germ theory" seems likely to be numbered among them. Unless people can give definite scientific knowledge regarding the subject it would seem better not to state as a fact what, at best, never has been proved and cannot be substantiated. Even "health books" used in the public schools make the same mistake of declaring a theory to be a fact. Thus, it would appear to the next generation, and probably will, have to unlearn all that is being taught along these lines today.

Alfred Russell Wallace, one of the greatest of the scientists who are produced, never accepted the "germ theory." He denounced it as "fundamentally wrong—partly because it did not recognize that a condition of health is the one and only protection we require against all kinds of disease."

Without the magic circle of science we might mention no less revered a name than that of Florence Nightingale, who, using common sense and wide experience, said (and this was before the germ theory was evolved): "There are no specific diseases—there are specific disease conditions." Nor did Florence Nightingale ever state a lot of her opposition to the theory of specific diseases; in fact, in later years she revoked, by a codicil to her will, a bequest of $10,000 because, she said, "it may be used to endorse some bacillus or microbe, and I do not wish that!"

"Happy is he who understands the causes of things." If the "germ theory" of disease is accepted as a fact, surely it is only logical to ask for proofs which would be of the greatest interest to the whole scientific world.

Segregation of Chinese

Sir,—As a medical student whose pressure of time for studies is so great, I have no intention of prolonging my discussion over the question of segregation of the Chinese pupils in Victoria, but just a few words more to point out the selfishness and shortsightedness of Mr. W. J. Dandridge whose letter appeared in The Colonist some time ago. I don't believe that he has made any effort to think out the deeper meaning of my recent article. His own selfishness and short-sightedness have prompted him to condemn me for attacking the teachers alone and omitting to mention the taxpayers. Well, he is not the only taxpayer in Victoria. What he pays out annually from his own pocket for the maintenance of the Chinese pupils is comparatively small. However, I wish to think him and the rest of the taxpayers just the same. I did not express my thanks, at first, to the taxpayers for the simple reason that my father, being a loyal British subject for the past twenty years, and a Canadian citizen for twenty-five years, is also one of the taxpayers in the City of Victoria. I have reason to believe that my father has paid in more tax to the city treasury of Victoria than Mr. Dandridge. Besides, there are hundreds of Chinese taxpayers in that city.

Mr. Dandridge appears, as it seems to me in his letter, to be a man "just for himself," and is quite satisfied with what he got. He has no thoughts for others or ideas of life and let live. The march of world events and democratic ideals is absolutely blind to him. He is what our Chinese maxim terms "the man sitting on the bottom of a deep well, looks up to the sky." He says "the Chinese parents are not innocent." Well, to err is human. There is no man who can call himself perfect except Christ. I suppose Mr. Dandridge is perfect and has never sinned?

My worthy opponent speaks of the German spies in England before the war, without an atom of truth. He speaks without authority. His statement was vague and not well supported. I wonder what proof he has to show that the Chinese were spies at that time, and that the Chinese were hostile to England and to the Allies during the war. What made him say that, nobody knows. It may be that his imagination prompted him to cry out for public prejudices against the Chinese, lest anything that is done for the good of humanity should lead him into the ditch. In spite of his unworthy statement, I wish Mr. Dandridge and his sympathizers will read the book entitled "London Through Chinese Eyes," written by a Chinese student. This book will give you some ideas what kind of impression the Chinese students have on English people. On another hand, the Chinese are lovers of peace and very appreciative of any thing or service rendered them unselfishly, and they are not as bad as Mr. Dandridge says.

China sends her sons to study in foreign countries, as the United States, England, France, Germany, Japan and Canada, etc., the languages and constitutions of these countries, not to retaliate, as Mr. Dandridge fears, but to try to establish a permanent international peace with all nations. And the Chinese students studying in Canada may seem, in a sense, to live, to quote Mr. Dandridge's words, "at the British expense." The answer to his selfishness and narrow-mindedness can be illustrated in this way. Suppose a man is at his deathbed, and at his bedside stands a young man with outstretched hands to help him, and you answer to his call and bring him back to life, like a good Samaritan. What will this sick man's gratitude be to you? He will say: "Don't you think you are repaid when he returns to life? This is quite applicable to China's present situation." EDW. R. GUNG,
Toronto, Ont., Nov. 5, 1922.

Sporting Accidents

Sir,—As you invite correspondence on the subject of Major Rice's letter, I would like to say something. For years I have wondered why sportsmen in this Province allow so many tragedies to happen without protest. Surely the worst of these "accidents" could be prevented by the proper enforcement of the game laws in every locality, and by making the "accidents" killing of human beings punishable by long imprisonment or by compelling the hunter to support the dependents of his victim?

Last year (1921) a bear was shot in cruel and unparliamentary circumstances on our land up in the Meriville settlement. There were L.R. notices all over the place, forbidding hunters to trespass and warning them of the proximity of settlers and children. Three people, of whom I was one and the other two game sportsmen, reported this shooting to the game warden, and I told him the name of the "sport" (not a settler) who shot the bear. This person kept off our land in future, but nothing apparently was done, for about ten days later, when I was up there, a shot was fired about 100 yards off (judging from the sound), and three came a terrible crashing and the crashing of a heavy

SPEAKS TO GYROS ON ARION CLUB'S AIMS

Purpose and History of Local Musical Organization Told by Gyro Harold Beckwith

The purpose and history of the Arion Club, the well-known Victoria organization of male choral singers, were told to the Gyro Club at its luncheon yesterday by Gyro Harold Beckwith. The Arion Club, said he, was organized in the office of the law firm of Yates, Jay & Russell in the year 1893, and the first concert was given in the old Institute Hall on View Street. The organization then had 21 singing members, and today has 50. This did not prove that it had made but slow progress, but was rather evidence of the fact that the membership was carefully chosen in order to keep the standards high. The objects of the club were to bring about the study of part singing and to foster a love of music in Victoria. The club had, in addition to its regular concerts each year, assisted in entertainments for various good causes. There was a fine feeling of comradeship among the members which assisted greatly in bringing their work to the high position which it had attained. Gyro Beckwith paid a tribute to the ability of the conductor, Mr. Howard Russell, who was able to transmit his thoughts and feelings through his baton.

The Arion Club was not a money-making organization, said the speaker, pointing out that the singing members paid a subscription fee, and that the members of the public who bought season tickets for the concerts were associate members. "We are asking the public to become associate members," explained Gyro Beckwith, asking for the support of the Gyros. Mr. Thomas Kelway, well-known tenor and a member of the Arion Club, of which Gyro Beckwith is also a member, sang two selections, which were greatly enjoyed by the gathering. The Gyro orchestra, under the leadership of Gyro Chris Wade, added to the musical programme. Colonel Lorne Ross, secretary of the Community Chest, asked the members to sign cards pledging

DEMANDS GOVERNMENT ACTION ON REAL ISSUES

Member for Alberni Says Session May Be Delayed Unless Big Problems Are Tackled

A threat that unless the Government at the present session will allow the eight-hour day bill to become law he "and others" are prepared to exert the ancient right of members of the House and delay the voting of supply until their demands are met was made by Major Richard J. Burde, M.C., Independent Member for Alberni, while speaking in the Legislature yesterday afternoon in the debate on the motion for the Address in Reply to the Speech from the Throne. The member recalled that his efforts in the past two sessions to secure the enactment of such a bill in the interests of the loggers of the Province, has been side-tracked on various pretexts. "Passing the buck" was the way the member described the operation.

Alberni's member also declared the time has come to amend the Liquor Act to permit a freer consumption of beer and other light beverages, and he scoffed at the declaration by Attorney-General Manson that the bootlegger is being eliminated. So long as the present act remained as it is, Major Burde argued, the bootlegger would flourish. He declared the public approval of the action of judges and magistrates who have accepted the evidence of the stool pigeons and spies engaged by the Liquor Control Board in efforts to secure convictions against bootleggers, and he held that it was about time a prosecution was brought against the Liquor Act itself.

Offers Up Thanks
"Thank the Lord we are through with them," said the member for Alberni, referring to the speeches of the Premier and the leader of the Conservative opposition. He defied anyone in the House who had heard the two speeches of the opposing leaders to say what they had been talking about. He noted the paucity of material worth while in the speech from the Throne and commented upon the fact that it might as well have mentioned the fact that a new government is in power at Ottawa as to tell the House of Commons of the Governor-General to the Province, something that was well known to all.

Major Burde recalled his numerous efforts to bring to the attention of the House the crying need of action to oust the Oriental from the fisheries of this coast. He complimented the present Federal Government on the celerity with which it had carried out its pre-election promise to have an investigation made into that question following representations made in the Ottawa House by Messrs. Neil and Stork, members, respectively, of the Federal ridings of Comox-Alberni and Prince Rupert.

The result had been that the issuance of licences to Orientals had been materially curtailed. No right-thinking man could do other than commend the efforts of those members, Major Burde declared, and he contrasted their efforts with the action of Messrs. Stevens and Clements, members of the late Conservative government, who, when he (Major Burde) had urged the need of the eradication of the Oriental in the fisheries, had declared he was a "Red" and a "Boobah."

Feeling of Restlessness
There had been a feeling of restlessness in his constituency on this question but now that feeling is one of contentment, he said. He referred to evidence which, at that time, had been given before the fisheries committee by one Ness, of the B. C. Canneries Company, to the effect that were the Orientals closed out of the fishing industry the canneries would have to close down.

"I want to say that were that the case, then he had better close down now and go to Japan himself," declared Major Burde.

A demand that the Legislature should take definite action to bring into effect an eight-hour day bill was made by the member for Alberni, who outlined his efforts to that end at previous sessions. The fact that the Liberals in the recent Federal elections had a plank in their platform promising such a measure had induced him to support them. But he regretted to state that at the first session of the Federal Government, when the member for Comox-Alberni had asked what would be done about it, the Government would implement its pre-election promise, the old answer had been returned, the same old "passing of the buck," that it was a matter for the Province.

He recalled that in the Legislative debates on the matter it was urged on behalf of the manufacturers that were an eight-hour day bill made effective to the logging industry, that this Province would be unable to compete with the State of Washington, but that had not been a word about competition from other Provinces. He declared the Dominion Government would be forced to implement its promise despite the opposition of all the lumber interests, and there were 18,000 workers in this Province who would see to it that the eight-hour bill was made a reality.

Matter of Calculation
Referring to Premier Oliver's statement that the speech by the leader of the Conservative Opposition had cost the Province $4,000, though he was unable to see just how the Premier had arrived at that calculation, Major Burde wondered how it was, if the Premier was possessed of such an economical spirit, he had not thrown his speech in on the same afternoon and thus split the honor and the expense.

"Then let them both go up the P.G.E. with that bottle of booze the Premier told us about, and let them stay there while we settle this liquor question on the floor of this House," said the member for Alberni, who said that the Attorney-General Manson was "a young man with the restless energy of youth, ambitious to go higher. I admire how he took the job of a wiser man had been bumped out."

"He tells us he is going after the bootlegger. Had he been more cautious he would have shown some hesitancy in making that statement. I have been advised by a friend of the leader of the Opposition that in Vancouver a chair of the population is bootlegging for the other fifty per cent. When the Attorney-General tells us that he will wipe out the bootlegger, I am not sure that he is not undertaking a mighty big job."

Major Burde, who held that the liquor question has got to the stage where it required careful handling, and that some steps must be taken to meet the growing public demand for a change. He severely criticized those prohibitionists who stood "on the side lines" and refused to take an active part in improving the present act, and he cited, specifically, Dr. Telfer, who, he declared, "stands outside and grins but will not step in to assist in making the act workable, thereby protecting the youth of the country."

Wages Liquor Amendment
Major Burde came out fairly for an amendment to the Liquor Act permitting the sale of beer and light wines by the glass.

"If you want to be a moderate drinker, and want a glass of beer, you cannot get it from the liquor stores; you must carry it away by the bucketful. I want the new Attorney-General to show courage. He knows his own opinion on this matter. Bring in an amendment that will permit the people who desire to do so, to secure a lighter beverage in smaller quantities."

Major Burde suggested the Attorney-General, who he told the House of his determination to enforce the act, should have taken another view of the situation. He said that the judges have been showing a lenient attitude toward those stool-pigeons and spies who were everywhere being discredited. There could be no doubt there was a popular approval of the action of the courts in so dealing with the evidence of such agents. Was it not a fact that the time had arrived when the people should be protected; was it the bootlegger or the act that was responsible for the trouble?

Major Burde scoffed at the suggestion by the Attorney-General that the bootlegger was operating only at night on Sundays and holidays when the liquor stores were not open for business.

"I can tell him I have been in hundreds of clubs and resorts which operate all day long. They are crowded because a man can there get one drink if he wants it, or a dozen if he desires it, but he does not have to take it; but I can't get one drink from your stores. I can go into a bootlegger's and get a cool glass right off the ice, while on the other side, and go out. I can't do that in your liquor stores. Is that not better for the youth of the country than your methods under your act?"

Enforcement Difficult
Major Burde agreed the Attorney-General had a great task before him in enforcing the present Liquor Act, and he declared that the statement of the Opposition leader, that liquor stores had been forced upon communities, was not true. The fact that liquor stores had been forced upon communities was a matter of the riding of Alberni, and he declared that the fact that he had requested four stores to open in his riding in the past riding, and there was no public opposition, the Attorney-General would allow but one, and latterly, another was established at Parksville. He asserted the Opposition leader was wrong when he stated there were eighty-three different brands of "boots." He (Major Burde) had inspected the price list, and he could find but fifty-six brands.

Major Burde confessed he had some sympathy with the Attorney-General (Mr. J. W. de B. Parris), "who is taking his medicine amply." The expression upon the face of the latter when the Opposition leader was taking thrusts at the present incumbent in the office could only be adequately described by that Bible quotation which the Hon. member for Alberni quoted: "And I hated all my labor wherein I labored until my soul, seeing that I must leave it unto the man who shall be over me, and he knoweth where he shall be wiser man or a fool, yet shall he have rule over all my labor wherein I have labored and whereof I have shown wisdom under the sun. This also is vanity."

Gives Warning
Major Burde recalled he had always received courteous attention at the hands of the various Ministers when he sought anything for his constituents—sometimes promises were not kept—but yet the members of the Government must recognize that if, before the House adjourned, there was not brought down legislation meeting the crying needs of the time, the members might yet be found exercising their ancient right that there shall be no supply voted until their rights are secured.

Sergeant-at-Arms Dies
OTTAWA, Nov. 7. J. de St. Denis Lemoine, 75, who, until his retirement from public service three months ago, was sergeant-at-arms to the Canadian Senate, died here last night after a long illness. He was born in 1850 at Toronto.

MEMORIAL SERVICE ON SATURDAY NEXT

Function on Armistice Day Will Be Held at Parliament Buildings—Two Minutes' Silence

For the convenience of the general public, the Armistice Period committee arranged for the memorial service to be held on Armistice Day in front of the Parliament Buildings, at 3 p.m. The parade will take place from the corner of Yates and Government Streets at 2:30 p.m.

The committee appeals to the general public, transportation companies, all employers, etc., to carry out the request of the Federal Government and recognize a "two minutes' silence" from 11 a.m. till 11:02 a.m., on Saturday, November 11.

They also issue an appeal to all employers in the City of Victoria and district to permit their employees, as far as possible, to attend the memorial service at 3 p.m., and in the case of ex-service employees to allow them sufficient time to attend the parade at 2:30 p.m. and the memorial service later.

The Armistice Period Committee would like to have the use of a few automobiles to convey veterans from the hospitals on Saturday afternoon to the memorial service. Anyone willing to assist in this way might telephone 5932.

RENEW EFFORT TO BUILD TERMINALS

VICTORIA PROGRAMME TO GO BEFORE C.N.R. HEAD

Businessmen Claim Lack of Trackage and Interchange Means Huge Loss to Port

Recognizing that Victoria's whole future as a seaport and as an industrial centre is largely dependent upon the provision of improved terminal facilities and a closer connection between the Island railroads and the Outer Docks, the Chamber of Commerce is preparing to make fresh representations to the new management of the Canadian National Railway system.

As a preliminary step in bringing the Island railway situation before the railway company, an amalgamation will be effected between the three Chambers of Commerce committees, which in the past have been working on separate phases of rail transportation development. The three committees, which in future will concentrate on having the original C. N. R. programme carried out, are the standing committee on transportation, headed by Mr. C. F. W. Shawcross; the docks committee, headed by Mr. W. A. Jamieson, and the railway interchange committee, presided over by Mr. R. W. Mayhew.

Report on Souke Line
Discussion of C.N.R. affairs was introduced at yesterday's luncheon meeting of the directors of the chamber at the Dominion Hotel, when a report from the Souke line committee was dealt with. The report suggested that the attention of Sir Henry Thornton should be drawn to the proposal of linking up the C. N. R. Souke line with the C. N. R. Victoria line by way tracks so as to provide downtown terminals, more convenient to the public than the present temporary depot at the west end of the Point Ellice Bridge. Reference was made to the inability of local officials of the company to attend a recent meeting when the interchange proposal was discussed, and the committee suggested that, if Coast representatives of the railroad had no authority to act, the matter should be taken to the highest power.

Several directors criticized such a course, however, pointing out that the Souke line was a detail which Sir Henry Thornton, the new president of the C. N. R., would have nothing to do with. It was also stated that Sir Henry had not yet taken over the actual direction of the road, and that in any event the decision would be delegated to some subordinate official.

Fears Confusion
Mr. Mayhew held that it would only confuse the C. N. R. situation here if the company was urged to link up with the B. C. Electric tracks, and he believed that if such a plan were effected it would postpone indefinitely the completion of the original terminal programme of the Canadian National.

"What we should ask for is extension of the C. N. R. tracks to the Johnson Street Bridge and an early commencement of construction of the terminal buildings," said Mr. Mayhew. "Victoria is losing the biggest bet as a result of the lack of proper interchange facilities, and the necessity on the part of wholesale and manufacturing plants to pay huge bills for trucking. All that cost, which is handicapping Victoria in competition with other cities, could be eliminated if there was more truckage and direct connections between these houses and the rail terminals and wharves. Under present conditions, these houses cannot use the shipping that is available on a satisfactory basis at all. We are strangled in our aspiration for port development."

Mr. H. C. Hall, K.C., stated that the appropriations for the terminals had been made years ago and were in the bank awaiting expenditure. He said that another committee of the Chamber of Commerce, as well as other interests were working for connections between the rail terminals on the former Reserve area and the Outer Docks.

Major Johnson Ill
Major G. B. Johnson, Canadian Trade Commissioner at Glasgow, was expected to address the directors, but he was unable to do so owing to an eye infection which caused him going to hospital.

A telegram from Secretary George I. Warren, now in Winnipeg, announced new reductions in week-end excursion rates from Victoria to Seattle.

A committee was appointed to confer with immigration and customs officials with a view to expediting the examination of passengers on incoming steamships who desire to tour the city while their ships are in port. The applications for the use of the new Chamber of Commerce quarters were turned over to the ways and means committee, and Mr. Harold Dixon, chairman of a special committee, was authorized to proceed with plans for a grand opening.

SHORT FRENCH CROP RAISES BREAD PRICE

PARIS, Nov. 7.—The shortage in this year's wheat crop doubtless will cause an advance in the price of bread in France. The price at present is one franc and five centimes per 2.5 pounds and is fixed by the Government.

The Minister of Agriculture has addressed a letter to the Prefect of the department stating that the present situation is due to causes which are not likely to recur. With the rates of exchange as they stand now, he says it is necessary to avoid the importation of wheat into this country. The minister appeals to the population to avoid the necessity of sending French gold abroad.

Mr. H. C. Hall, K.C., stated that the appropriations for the terminals had been made years ago and were in the bank awaiting expenditure. He said that another committee of the Chamber of Commerce, as well as other interests were working for connections between the rail terminals on the former Reserve area and the Outer Docks.

DEMANDS SUPPRESSION OF BULL FIGHT SCENES

PARIS, Nov. 7.—Motion pictures of bull fights have caused Municipal Councilor Leopold Bellan to protest to the prefect of police and demand the suppression of scenes which show horses being injured by infuriated bulls. The councilor said that such scenes had a bad effect on the people.

The Government advised the makers of the films that it would appreciate the elimination of gruesome scenes.

Rev. Watson and Councilor Vantreigh were present and explained the reason for the council's action. It was stated that the municipal authorities would not allow cars to ply on routes which crossed any existing route. A committee, consisting of Trustees F. V. expressed in some quarters that the Kemalists would retreat from their arbitrary stand in the face of the Allied unity.

LONDON, Nov. 7.—In view of the attitude assumed by the Turkish Nationalists in Constantinople, it was declared in official circles here today that the Lausanne conference may be postponed to the end of the present month, and may possibly be abandoned.

The opening of the conference has been fixed for November 12. The Allied foreign officers are working in harmony, being agreed upon a policy of resistance to the Turkish demand for the military evacuation of Constantinople, and the British forces there are said to be quite sufficient to protect the civilian population.

A test of Allied authority is being made in the Kemalists' arrest and condemnation to death of Ali Kemal Bey, editor of the anti-Nationalist newspaper Sabah. The Allied high commissioners have notified Rafet Pascha, Nationalist Governor of Constantinople, that no persecutions will be tolerated, and that force, if necessary, will be used to liberate the editor.

(A report today from Constantinople, which, however, was unconfirmed, was that Ali Kemal Bey had already been executed at Ismid.)
New Nationalist Measures
Recent official telegrams from Constantinople show a series of new Nationalist measures, as follows: "First, a passport control whereby no Ottoman subject is permitted to depart without a Turkish police visa. "Second, new customs regulations, the object of which is to abolish the public debt, with orders that the director of customs no longer pay a share of the share of the duties into the public debt fund, but turn over the money directly to the Angora treasury; and
"Third, closing of the mixed British judicial court."

Hoppy Bank Dance

What was generally acknowledged to be the most successful dance held under the organization's auspices took place on Thanksgiving Day in the Knights of Columbus Hall, Government Street, the hosts being the members of the staff of the Royal Bank of Canada in the city, all local branches co-operating to make the undertaking a success. The Royal Bank of Canada's staff has held a large number of most enjoyable social affairs, but not one of them equalled the enthusiasm and gaiety of this holiday function. The dance was patronized by over one hundred and twenty members and friends of the banking institution, all of whom spent a most enjoyable evening, and were most reluctant to depart when the strains of the home waltz had died away. The four-piece orchestra opened the dance programme at 9 o'clock, and from that time until the termination of the affair, which took place shortly after 3 a.m., the carnival spirit prevailed. During the evening a delightful buffet supper was partaken of. The energetic committee which worked so hard to insure the comfort of the guests, and to whom much credit for the successful character of the affair may be attributed, was composed of the following members of the Royal Bank staff: Mr. A. D. May (chairman), Miss Gertrude Rolfe, Miss Gladys Walker, Mr. Jack Patterson, Mr. Harold Steenson and Mr. Arthur J. Ross. It is the intention of the committee to hold a number of similar dances throughout the winter season.

On Visit to City

Mr. A. R. Ormiston, of Kern, Argyle, Scotland, is a guest at the Empress Hotel. Mrs. Jones expects to be away about six months.

Gone to Vancouver

Mr. James L. Lawrence Speaks to Women's Canadian Club Asking Support for University

"We are not the youngest province in the Dominion; both Saskatchewan and Alberta are younger than British Columbia. Yet Alberta has found its way clear to spend $4,000,000, and Saskatchewan $1,000,000 for university construction. We hope that our Province will not be behind her younger sisters in what she is prepared to do in providing the proper kind of Alma Mater."

This was one of the several arguments advanced by Mr. James L. Lawrence in the plea which he made before the Women's Canadian Club yesterday afternoon for their support in the campaign on behalf of the extension of the University building scheme which has been frustrated by the present accommodation of both from the standpoint of staff and students, and the quality of instruction. The speaker pictured the heterogeneous collection of basements and other quarters which served as classrooms. The chemistry work, for instance, was carried on in a tent; the basement of a church had been leased as a lecture hall.

MANY PERSONS GIVEN HELP WHILE IN NEED

Local Association Makes Call for Donations—Thanks Expressed for Aid Received

Fifteen members were present at the monthly meeting of the Friendly Help Association held yesterday morning. Miss D. Ker was welcomed as a new member. Eighty-seven families were assisted in October, representing about 240 persons. A grateful vote of thanks was extended to five little girls, Anne and Helen Proctor, Emil and Fatty Dier and L. Ormiston, for holding a bazaar and giving the proceeds to the Friendly Help.

Letters of thanks were read from three recipients who were in sore need and were very grateful for the timely assistance given.

Babies' clothing has been asked for, so the association makes an appeal either for the layettes or the flannellette to make them. Thanks were expressed to twelve stall holders in the market who gave a thanksgiving offering of apples and other fruits, vegetables, meat (cooked) and fresh meat, fish, etc.; also to the teachers and pupils of the Kingston Street School for their splendid donation.

URGES SERIOUSNESS OF UNEMPLOYMENT

Newcastle's Socialist Member Declares Government is Neglecting Vital Problems of Workers

A demand that the Government must be prepared to meet the unemployed situation in the Province, a situation which, he claimed, is more acute despite the assurances given to the members by the Minister of Labor was voiced in the Legislature yesterday afternoon by Mr. Samuel Guthrie, Socialist member for Newcastle, when speaking in the debate upon the address.

The Socialist member for Newcastle first ridiculed the efforts of the Premier and the opposition leader to appear as if the fight was on in earnest. It appeared to him like the fight between the Balfours, the Milners and the Cursons as against Lloyd George on the other side, and the next week might see them in the same cabinet. The Premier and opposition leader had shown their hand last year when they worked hand in hand together to defeat the eight-hour bill. It was nothing better than a "ham fight," he claimed. In the proposed amendments to the Workmen's Compensation Act he did not feel so sure. The Government had said so two years ago, but nothing developed, simply because "the bosses of the Government appeared and said it would ruin industry." The Liberal Government at that time took the advice of their bosses, he said.

Fifty-five per cent of the worker's earnings was not enough to be paid by the Compensation Board, claimed Mr. Guthrie. There should be no less than 100 per cent paid. The workers on the P. G. E. earning thirty cents per hour needed all of that, and more, if they were so unfortunate as to be placed in hospital. In company with the member for South Vancouver, Mr. R. H. Neelands, he had visited the P. G. E. country, and an investigation there had proved to him conclusively that members of both parties had benefited through the extent of campaign funds.

Unemployment Question
Turning to the unemployment question, Mr. Guthrie related how he had interviewed the then Minister of Public Works, Hon. Dr. King, to induce him to take care of forty men and their families in his own district.

CITY'S TAXATION TROUBLES IN-HOUSE

Mr. J. B. Clearihue Urges Legislature to Extend Relief Asked for—His Taxation Commission Plan

The financial condition of Victoria and the necessity of the House granting the requests being put forward by this city for further legislation to permit it to raise taxation to meet the present serious financial problems, was the theme of the speech delivered in the Legislature yesterday afternoon by Mr. Joseph B. Clearihue, Liberal member for Victoria.

"I do not wish to be misunderstood by anyone as endeavoring to paint the City of Victoria as being financially insolvent. I am not a pessimist; on the contrary, I fully believe that the future of this city and of the whole Province was never brighter," declared the member for Victoria, who held that the financial depression, which in the past has been experienced throughout the whole world is not peculiar to this part of the universe. He saw in the reports of business from all portions of the country basis for his feelings of confidence in the future.

Mr. Clearihue congratulated the Government on the manner in which it has conducted the financial operations of the Province and held that the fact that the exchange rate has now changed and, instead of Canadian money being discounted in the United States, today it is being procured is being carried out, in proof that Canada is financially sound and her future, both industrially and financially, is bright. If not greater, than that of the country to the South.

Owners Harassed

"In this City of Victoria we find that our landowners are very rapidly permitting their holdings to be put up for sale and revert to the city. This is not a healthy sign, and under our present system of municipal taxation every year will result in further large tracts of land reverting to the municipality. These lands are being thrown upon the market at a very low price, with very few purchasers. Prices are thus depressed, destroying the whole real estate market. It is upon real estate that our city primarily depends for its taxes, and it is to the value of real estate that our bondholders look for the ultimate redemption of our obligations. Thus, we have a very rapid destruction of the value of our assets and the elimination of our taxpayers by the city assuming ownership of the property. Victoria finds itself today in a very serious condition."

Referring to the "excessive optimism" shown in the boom period and the great outlays on roads and other public facilities, Mr. Clearihue asserted that today the assessment values remain far above the actual market value, and the taxpayer is paying a rate that is a rate far in excess of what can be secured in the open market. The tax rate in Victoria last year, he stated, was thirty-three mills, or three per cent. If this were assessed on the value of the market value of the land, an exorbitant figure, he claimed. In consequence, it was not today financially sound for anyone to invest in real estate in Victoria, and the city was yearly becoming owner of reversionary lands, the assessed value of those lands being over one million dollars. The assessed value of the land was $1,200,000, all of which had been withdrawn from the taxpayer's value and was not productive to the city. The assessed value of these lands was $1,200,000 and the assessable value about the same, he said.

Solution Needed

"It is thus in the interest of good finance and good government to ask the Provincial Legislature to find some solution and allow those who desire to hold their lands to do so and continue to pay taxes," stated the member for Victoria, who referred to the application of the city for legislation at the present session to permit of arrears of taxes on reverted lands being consolidated and allowed to extend over a period of fifteen years; the taxpayer, during that period, paying six per cent interest and his annual taxes. He pointed out that up to the present there have been 655 applications for relief under this system, representing over 400 taxpayers. If the relief be not granted, these lands will revert to the city and the treasury will be that much poorer. So long as the present policy was pursued and no attempt made to broaden the basis of taxation these reverted lands would cease to be revenue producing, and by constantly gutting the real estate market, they will indefinitely retard the general economic recovery of the city.

Mr. Clearihue spoke strongly in favor of the power, authority to carry into effect the city's plan is seeking to allow taxpayers to pay their annual obligations on the monthly system over a period of ten months. In reality such a plan would amount to but 5.8 per cent, he said, if the whole tax were not paid, and much less if the monthly payments were met within a reasonable time.

Supports City's Request

Mr. Clearihue approved of the city's request for more extensive power to levy license fees, such fees today being ridiculously small in Victoria, he said. The request for right to impose a license fee upon those trading on the basis of the rental value of their premises was fair, he considered.

The member for Victoria considered the taxation of rental values was an eminently fair one. At present many firms carried on business in the best parts of the city, making extensive profits and they paid no greater contribution to the civic treasury than the smallest concern. Merchants of Victoria could not complain of such a tax. Mr. Clearihue believed, for here they were paying less than in many other centres of the Dominion.

But even with the above new sources of revenue, the member for Victoria doubted very much if much relief would be secured by the taxpayers of Victoria, and in suggesting other sources whence taxation can be levied, he urged the House should consider the granting of the right to impose an income tax for the benefit of the municipalities. Victoria, he pointed out, was not seeking that power in its private bill, but was joining with the other municipalities in putting forward such a plan.

A Third Income Tax

There was no reason, so far as the member for Victoria could see, why, despite the fact that there are now two income taxes being levied, Provincial and Federal, there should not be a third. An income tax was eminently the fairest way of levying taxation. It was based upon a man's ability to pay. If the interests of the individual were so varied as to be covered on under several forms of government, it was perfectly fair that the individual should contribute to all those methods of government which assisted him in making a livelihood. The member for Victoria pointed to the fact that the collection of the several incomes and the collection of the tax. But where both Federal and Provincial Governments were collecting such a tax and classifying the income of the people, the difficulty could be overcome.

The ideal method of the administration and collection of any part of a tax would be to have a joint tax commission to collect all taxes, Federal, Provincial and municipal, and distribute the same among the several dependent sections of the Government. He understood such a plan had already been considered by the Minister of Finance.

Mr. Clearihue spoke briefly on the subject of education.

"We in Victoria find the cost of education is rapidly increasing, and it has brought us very serious criticism. But when we compare our cost with that in other cities, we are with a very ready recognition of the fact that the cost in Victoria is 18 per cent of the city's revenue, compared with 17.8 per cent in Hamilton, 13.3 in Halifax, 16.4 in Montreal, and 19.5 in Ottawa.

"The honorable second member for Victoria forgot that we are living on the North American continent, which is the most advanced of any part of the world in education," declared Mr. Clearihue, who referred to the great strides in industrial development, and the fact that we hold the methods of education, and that the struggles and horrible atrocities committed in Southern and Eastern Europe, largely due to the extensive ignorance of the masses of those countries.

British Columbia, of all countries, deserves a system of education equal to that of any other part of the world. We have to develop our forests, our mines and our people. We fall in the education of our people, and the more educated people to our south and, perhaps, even to our country, are the more advanced. The very industrial future of our country rests upon the application of education to our youth," concluded Mr. Clearihue.

CALL CONFERENCE ON UNEMPLOYMENT

CITY AT LAST TAKES STEPS TO MEET SITUATION

Mayor Suggests "Piece Work" System for Carriage and Furniture Works During Winter

With the winter fast approaching and the city so far without a definite programme for dealing with the unemployment situation that is almost certain to develop during the next two or three months, Mayor William Marshall suggested to the City Council last night that a special meeting should be called for the consideration of the whole subject.

The Council approved the idea, and a date for the conference will be set in the early future. In a letter to the aldermen the Mayor outlines the present situation and recommends a plan of action as follows:

"I have had two interviews with the Deputy Minister of Labor in relation to this subject and a very brief interview with the Hon. the Attorney-General, and both these gentlemen have informed me that they are doing their very utmost to retard the flow of ordinary labor to the city and Province.

"It must, however, be borne in mind that British Columbia is sent about 4,000 men to the Prairies to work during seed time and harvest, and a considerable number of these men may be classed as residents and citizens of this Province, and it is very natural that such persons would desire to return again in order to escape the rigorous climate of the Prairies.

Province to Co-operate

"The Provincial Labor Department is fully apprised of the conditions surrounding the employment question and has assured me that in every way it will co-operate with the city in preventing an undue influx of persons seeking employment during the winter months.

"It cannot be too widely known that under no circumstances does the labor department consider that single men should expect to be provided with either employment or relief, and that if such should return to the city for any purpose no encouragement will be given to them.

"The city is bound by municipal law to provide for the helpless and aged poor, and it is to this class that the attention of the Friendly Help Society is specially given.

"It may be necessary during the winter months to provide for the employment of some married men with families, who may have been unable to make provision for their own maintenance, and I, therefore, feel it very desirable that the Council should, at an early date, go into committee as a whole in order to consider the situation.

"It would appear to me that if the

AMATEUR HOCKEY IS NOW WELL ASSURED: FRANCHISES ISSUED

Talk of Disbanding League Stirs Enthusiasts to Prompt Action—Plenty of Good Players Available to Make Three Strong Teams—Good Backing for Clubs Is Secured at Meeting

DAN O'SULLIVAN IS ELECTED PRESIDENT

Victoria is to have senior amateur hockey. This was definitely decided at the annual meeting of the Victoria Senior Amateur Hockey Association held last evening at the Y.M.C.A., when three new franchises were granted to clubs to be supported by the Civil Servants' Association, Union Oil Company and the Pacific Transfer Company.

The officers for the 1922-23 season were elected as follows: Honorary president, Aubrey Archibald (re-elected); Honorary vice-presidents, W. H. Wilkerson (re-elected), George Straith.

President, Dan O'Sullivan (re-elected); Vice-president, Darrell Spence; Secretary-treasurer, J. Stevens (re-elected).

Board of Governors (re-elected), L. D. Rines, W. Young, A. Wills.

As the four teams playing last year in the Victoria Senior Amateur Hockey League had relinquished their franchises and previous to the opening of the meeting only one team, the Provincial Servants' Association, had applied for a franchise, President Dan O'Sullivan pointed out that, unless another team or two entered, the league would have to suspend or disband.

"Something has got to be done and done right now," stated Mike McDonald, Victoria's oldtime amateur hockey player. "If the good old game is worth playing it is worth fighting for. It is up to everyone here to get out and fight and fight with a heart. Are we going to let the league disband? We should do everything in our power to keep the league together and be in a position to get into the provincial championship."

Some Good Suggestions

Mr. Percy Watson, president of the British Columbia Senior Amateur Hockey Association, also urged the meeting to do everything possible to keep the league going. His suggestion to organize two clubs and to play exhibition games every other week with the four Vancouver teams met with approval of the meeting. To form an inter-city league would be impossible, but he thought that at the annual meeting of the provincial body next Saturday arrangements could be made to have exhibition games. Mr. Watson thought the local league could make arrangements with the Commercial League for ice to play the local series as well as the Victoria-Vancouver games. This would be a big drawing card, and he felt sure that it would meet with the approval of local amateur hockey enthusiasts.

The meeting took the names of all those present who would play this season and 27 names were secured, including the names of the Provincial Civil Servants' players. It was found that there were enough players for three strong teams, so President O'Sullivan urged that immediate steps be taken to organize two teams so that the league could continue.

Mr. Cy Paxton, of the Union Oil Company, and Mr. K. Perry, of the Pacific Transfer Company, came to the rescue of the league and offered to each back a club.

A meeting of the new executive will be held immediately so that arrangements can be made with the Arena Company of the Commercial League for ice.

Mr. John Wickson was appointed delegate to attend the annual meeting of the British Columbia Senior Hockey Association to be held at Vancouver next Saturday evening. He is to carry the promise of the three local clubs.

SANE CITIZENSHIP IS CANADA'S NEED

MRS. LIPSETT-SKINNER SPEAKS TO WOMEN'S CANADIAN CLUB

Points Out the Deterrent Effect of Prejudice in National Progress—Cubism Gives Strength

There was much sound sense as well as good humor in the address on "Sane Citizenship" which Mrs. Genevieve Lipsett-Skinner gave before the Women's Canadian Club yesterday afternoon. Her remarks, even the more critical phases of which were marked by a spirit of tolerance, met with much favor, and the members supported the resolution of thanks, motioned seconded by Mrs. Willy and Mrs. Henderson, by a standing vote.

"Sane citizenship is represented by a body of people of average mind, untrammeled by superficial prejudices, moderate in viewpoint, tolerant, well-informed on problems of Federal, Provincial and municipal magnitude, whether they are social, political or economic," defined the speaker at the beginning of her talk.

She threw out a warning against sectionalism. "Prejudice," she noted, "often throws us apart from people well worth knowing." Many people were accustomed to look askance at the province of Quebec, to regard the people of that part of Canada as absolutely impossible. Her own experience of them had dispelled faith in the province of Quebec, and had taken its place with her, and had taken special trouble "to see if the people were as black as painted."

"On the contrary, I found them most charming and human, kindly and sane," she reported.

Agriculture and Industry

Another phase of prejudice and sectionalism was cited, viz., the antagonism between the agricultural interests and the industrial and manufacturing interests. It seemed to her a great pity that the two elements did not understand each other. There was need of both; if the country was to amount to anything these two interests must march hand in hand.

"Sane citizenship respect the laws on the statute books, whether they personally approve those laws or not," continued Mrs. Lipsett-Skinner. The worst effect of the Volstead law was the manner in which the youth of the land (and they got their example from the older people) were setting the law at defiance.

"The best place to start being sane citizens is right in our own civic life. Municipal politics are only housekeeping on a large scale, and that is where women shine. The problem of the education of our children, sanitation of our homes, water supply, bread, if you care for these, if you add anything to the sum of human enjoyment, you have done something. . . . If we want the best people to enter public life, we must get rid of the idea that every man running for office has some personal axe to grind. Study the needs of your community, and then work out some constructive campaign for meeting these," said the speaker in conclusion.

The audience gave an enthusiastic reception to the Kuntka's song, "Victoria, Our Homeland," sung by Miss Nellie Luggis, sister of the author, Mrs. Shaw, Mr. J. Douglas Macey, who composed the music, played the accompaniment.

In Massachusetts Senator Lodge was leading, and in Michigan, Senator Townsend was ahead. In Missouri Senator Reed, Democrat, was leading. In New Jersey, where prohibition was largely an issue, Governor Edwards, Democrat, running on a wet platform, was slightly ahead of Senator Frelinghuysen, Republican, running with prohibition endorsement.

Representative Fess, of Ohio, was leading Senator Pomerene, Democrat, on whom a hard fight had been conducted by the Labor element. In Pennsylvania Red and Pepper were elected, and in Rhode Island Senator Gerry, the Democratic incumbent, was ahead. In Tennessee, too, the Democratic incumbent, Senator McKellar, was running ahead of his opponent.

In Texas Earl B. Mayfield was elected. In Utah former Governor Draper, Republican, was running ahead of Senator King, Democrat and Mormon. In Vermont, Representative Green, Republican, had a large lead in his race.

New York Governor Lanes The notable contest in the governorship was in New York, where Governor Miller, the Republican governor, early conceded defeat at the hands of Alfred E. Smith, Democrat. There appeared to be no doubt of the election of Clifford Pinchot, with a Republican slate, as a governor of Pennsylvania.

A Solid South
NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—Up to 8 p.m., eastern standard time, the returns from the national congressional elections were coming in slowly and the polls in many states were at that hour still open. The Solid South returned, as usual, Democratic delegates in Georgia, Louisiana and Mississippi, with indications that other Democratic strongholds south of the Mason-Dixon line were in no danger.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Nov. 7.—Democratic state ticket headed by W. W. Brandon for Governor today was elected in its entirety although Republican strength in some sections was reported the heaviest ever recorded.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Ok., Nov. 7.—Miss Alice Robertson, of Muskogee, Republican, the only woman member of the sixty-seventh Congress, was defeated for re-election by the man over whom she won in the Republican landslide of 1920.
